Many people incorrectly believe leadership begins with a position or a title. The reality is leadership is influence. Nothing more. Nothing Less. Everyone influences others. You don't have to have a title to be a leader; whenever your life connects with another person, you exert influence. Everything you do— at home, at work, or at play—has an impact on the lives around you. No matter what your goals are in life, you can achieve them faster, you can be more effective and the contribution you make can be longer lasting if you learn to develop your influence.

John C. Maxwell is the New York Times Bestselling author of The 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership. He is recognized as the world's foremost leadership expert by the American Management Association and Inc. Magazine. This TWO-DAY workshop, based on John Maxwell's best-selling book, Becoming a Person of Influence- How to Positively Impact the Lives of those You Lead, translates the complex topic of leadership into simple, everyday language that can be applied and practiced in all of your life-leadership roles.
